Public-safe customer guidance

Current policy

For orders placed from 11 November 2026, customers may request a change-of-mind return within 30 calendar days after delivery and send goods within 14 days after notifying us. Our mainland UK prepaid label is free. Conditions for voluntary requests made after the statutory period appear in AL-PUB-03.

Refunds and delivery

Whole-order returns include standard delivery paid. Express upgrades are not refunded for change-of-mind returns. Partial returns do not trigger a retrospective delivery charge. The team aims to inspect within three working days and initiate refunds within five working days, subject to statutory deadlines.

Faults and exchanges

Faulty or incorrect-item claims are assessed under the applicable consumer rights rather than a blanket change-of-mind deadline. No direct stock reservation is made for exchanges: return the item and place a separate order. Contact support@alderandloom.example with the order reference.

Distribution

Page 1 is approved for customer-service extracts. The case register and operational controls on pages 2-3 are internal and must be removed before publication.

Case accounting

Amounts are GBP including VAT. The expected approved/pending-receipt amounts shown are not all completed refunds. RET-404 remains subject to inspection and has no approved refund amount. Orders above GBP 75 received free standard delivery. RET-405 was a partial return from an order that originally qualified for free delivery.

Case detail

All six orders were placed on 11 November for showroom collection and collected that morning. Return requests were received later the same day. RET-401 was handed back and approved before 14:00; RET-405 was handed back and its refund initiated at 15:10. RET-403 has carrier drop-off evidence but is not yet received. No customer name, address or payment credential is included.

Ownership

Jude Mercer handles intake, Owen Ellis confirms physical receipt, Leila Hart approves disputed outcomes and Theo Bennett reconciles payment-provider records. A refund initiated timestamp is not proof that funds have appeared in the customer account.

Internal controls and historical terms

Policy transition

Version 2.0 begins 11 November 2026 and replaces the GBP 3.50 voluntary return-label deduction with free prepaid returns. The earlier voluntary offer applied a 30-day request window with a label deduction; any historical case must still preserve statutory rights and correct outbound-delivery reimbursement. Do not apply a historical label fee to a new-policy order.

Inspection checklist

Confirm order and SKU, record received quantity, check condition, photograph relevant defects and assign sellable, quarantine or investigation status. A refund decision and a stock disposition are separate: an item may be refunded but not returned to sellable inventory. Never restore quarantine units to availability before release.

Reconciliation

Finance compares approved refunds, payment-provider transactions and warehouse receipt records daily. Differences are logged by case ID and resolved by the next working day where possible. Duplicate authorisations and amounts above the original payment are blocked pending review.

Escalation

Leila reviews disputed condition decisions. Cases approaching a statutory refund deadline are prioritised immediately; a warehouse backlog does not extend legal deadlines. Suspected fraud is escalated for review without automatically refusing legitimate consumer rights.
